

Catharine Lucas

UNSETTLED

what is it in this house its drawers and niches, closets, walls that resists
spits things back at me
so nothing ever settles
feels at home?

like the couch

even big things sit awkwardly in their unaccustomed places
looking temporary
and wary as callers
in the dentist's
waiting room

